Constantinople, January 30.

WE have Accounts of two good Prizes made by his Britannick Majesty's Ships, the one bound to Smyrna, commanded by one Lefabre, the other by one Cournan for this Port, both from Marseilles. The French here offer on several Ships 35 per Cent. Insurance; none has appeared for some Months at this Scale; the French Traders are in such a distressed Condition, that they are obliged to raise Money at 20 and 24 per Cent. Interest. One of the English Turky Company's Ships Thames is arrived at Cyprus, very richly laden; she has near 700 Bales of Cloth on board, besides other Goods.

Vienna, Feb. 24, N. S. Yesterday Morning, at Eleven of the Clock, his Highness Prince Tour and Taxis, his Imperial Majesty's new principal Commissary at the Diet of the Empire, set out from hence for Ratisbon. The same Morning arrived here two Turkish Officers belonging to the Turkish Envoy Schadi Efendi, who, it is said, is arrived already at Belgrade, and is expected here soon after Easter, in order to prepare Count Oetting's Summer-palace in the Leopolstat for his Reception. On the other Hand, M. Linderl, their Imperial Majesty's Commissary, set out from hence, on the 21st Instant, for Semlin, to receive the said Efendi on the Frontiers of Hungary, and to conduct him hither, and defray his Expences.

Liege, March 2, N. S. By Accounts received Yesterday from Namur, the French Battalions there are very weak; the Regiment of Lowendahl does not exceed 56 Men per Company, though their Establishment is 110; and the Regiment of Normandy hath not 25 Men per Company, one with another, instead of 40.

[Price Two-pence.]

Liege, March 9, N. S. The Preparations which are making at Namur, as well as the Measures which Marshal Saxe hath concerted, leave no Room to doubt of his Intentions upon Maestricht. Whereupon Marshal Bathiani hath ordered his Troops, quartered in the Dutchy of Luxembourg to advance within three Days March of Verviers, which, joined to the Measures now taking at Maestricht, will, 'tis not doubted, preserve that Place against all Attempts of the French.

Dresden, March 10. It is computed that the Russian Troops will arrive at Bilitz, the first Town in Silesia, about the 17th of April, N. S. Their good Behaviour and exact Payment for the Necessaries they have Occasion, in their Passage through Poland, gives great Satisfaction at this Court.

Maestricht, March 16, N. S. Marshal Saxe's Equipage is arrived at Brussels, where he will be on the 20th Instant. All our Advices agree, that a Body of 25000 Men will soon be canton'd between Brussels and Louvain; and that Marshal Saxe proposes to be early in the Field. The Baggage of Count de St. Severin, the French Minister to the Conferences at Aix la Chapelle, came to Liege on the 14th, halted the 15th, and will come here To-day by the Way of Tongres.
